OPENING OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY AND SPERCE OF THE EMPEROR—DECREE RESPECTING THE NAVIGATION OF THE PARAGUAY.

We have received flies of the Carreio Mercantil of Ric Jacoire, extending up to the 4th of May. The legislative Assembly of the Empire was opened by the Emperor with the accustomed solemnities, on ranslation of the speech made by the Emperor:—

August and most worthy representatives of the naion:—With a sentiment or joy which always animates me on seeing the national representation assembled, I come to open the present legislative session.

The Empire continues at peace, and everything pro-mises that that condition of things will not be changed. My government has availed itself of that so favorable tunity, so that the application of the measures opportunity, so that the appropriate of developing which you have directed for the purpose of developing which you have directed for the purpose of developing the germs of national wealth and prosperity may pr duce the most beneficial results.

The war which unhappily exists between the principal powers of Europe, has not influenced the public revenue e such an extent as might have been apprehended. The tate of our finances is, therefore, satisfactory.

Our international relations are maintained in the condition of good understanding and amity which I have always endeavored to cultivate with the other powers. I have celebrated with the Riog of Portugal a convention which has for object to repress and punish the crims of falsification of money and notes of credit having legal circulation in each of the two countries, when eperated in the territory of the other. This convention will be submitted to you to obtain your approval in the part requiring legislative action.

The disagreeable occurrence which has taken place in the relations of the Empre with the republic of Paragusy has terminated in a manner honorable to both countries—the Paragusyan government binding itself the make due reparation. I expect that the mission which have sent to that requisit calls obtain a satisfactory accord in regard to other quest ons.

The pecuniary subsidy which my government was authorized to concede to that of the Eastern republic of Uruguay ended with the loan of the month of November last. The land force whose aid was required by the same government is, therefore, still mislatined in the Eastern territory. The generosity and discipline of which this portion of my army has given proof are deserving of special praise.

I am pleased to announce to you that no attempt has been made to carry on the African slave trade. The abhasion of the country, and the vigilance with which the police duties of our coast continue to be exercised, give me the assurance that this criminal commerce will not re appear.

My government prosecutes with particular selicitude Our international relations are maintained in the con-give me the assurance that this tribular solicitude not to appear.

My government prosecutes with particular solicitude the effect to promote colorization, on which so essentially depends the future of the country. I recked that their effects, aided as they always have been by your windown, and by the co-operation of all Brazilians, will not be fruitless.

their eibris, aided as they always have been by your wissers, and by the co-operation of all Brazilians, will not be faulties.

My ministers will give you detailed information on the state of the different branches of the public administration and their most urgent necessities.

I recommend to you the projects which avait your deliberation cencerning the reforms of the judiciary and hypethecation, the creation of a naval council, and the premotion of army officers, as well as the means indispensable to ameliorate the organization of the army.

August and most worthy representatives of the mation:—I confide in the frank and loyal support which you have leat to my government, and that the present session will be as fruitful as former ones in measures accquate to the prosperity of the empire, is the ebject of my most ardent vows and constant cares.

This session is opened.

It would appear that city property in Brazil is pretty valuable. The lot of ground occupied by the Swiss Hotsi in Petropolis, 360 seet front by 240 feet deep, was recently sold at anction for $41,000.

The following Imperal announcement appears in the Corrico of the 3d:—

He Majesty the Emperor, in demonstration of his grief for the death of the Emperor of Russis, of the Queen Dewager, and Queen of Sardinis, and of the Princes, the Duke of Genoa, and the Infante Don Carlos, goes into meuning, with his court, for the space of two months, to commence from the 6th inst.

We transcribe the following decree affecting the disputed question of the navigation of the Paraguay, from a Portuguese translation thereof, from the Scminarrio of 22d March.

of 22d March.
With the desire of preventing the decree of 3d October, 1854, prohibiting foreign vessels of war from entering the waters of the republic, without previous license, from being gives an improver extension, it is deemed prepar to give the precise meaning of that decree, limiting it to the objects which the supreme government had in view, which was to guard against its territory being violated by force, or the abuse of its ports; and therefore the following declaration in wasnet:

which was te guard against its territory being violated by force, or the abuse of its ports; and therefore the following declaration is usued:—

Art. I. The first article of the decree of the 3d of October, 1854, which prohibits foreign ships of was from entering into the rivers of the republic, without previous license of the government, is not to be extended to forceign ships of war, which powers, having treaties of commerce with the republic, and diplomatic or consular agests in the capital may send to the port of Assumption for the service of their correspondence, or for the conveyance, of any cipicmatic agent.

Art. 2. It is recommended that every war steamer which, conformably to the preceding article, may enter into the waters of the republic, report itself, first, to the commandant of the river police, at the mouth of the river Paraguay, and state its nationality and the object of its proceeding to the capital.

Art. 3. Let it be communicated, &c., &c.

CARLO ANTONIO LOPEZ.

Assumption, 22d March, 1855.

The steamer Murcury, which istely left Rio Jaseiro for the river of the same name, had on board about one hundred and sixty colonists, imported from the island of Madeira, by and on account of the Murcury Company. They were in general families of farewers, who would not perhaps have emigrated had it not been for the grape disease.

The case of Kmily C. Day against Volkert E. Roth and Nelson Roth was commenced before Justes Pratt yesterday morning. The fair plaintiff appeared in court accempanied by one or two female friends. Joshua A. Spencer and Philo Gridley appeared for the plaintiff, Jealiss and Henry A. Foster for defendants.

The case was opened by Hon. Joshua A. Spencer in behalf of the plaintiff, who stated that this was an action to recover from defendants the sum of $7,500, with some $700 or $800 interest, claimed to have been given by the plaintiff, Miss Day, to one of the defendants for invastment. He should be able to prove that the defendants conspired to put this property out of the reach of the plaintiff or any of ber friends. The plaintiff is a native of England, who, while in Paris in the mouth of April, 1850, became acquainted with Volkert W. Roth, which acquaintance ripeaced into an engagement of marriage. Mr. Roth learning that the plaintiff was possessed or certain funds, prevailed upon her to entrust him with the sum of $7,500. He arrived here early in September, 1850, and immediately on his arrival prepared to deposit these funds in the name of Miss Day in the hands of Albert G. Gridley, ef Clinton. As Mr. Roth could not draw there funds in his own name, he procured a power of attorney from the plaintiff. In the mouth of September some $6,000 or more was deposited to the credit of Mr. Roth. A few days subsequently he free some $3,000, and on the 20th of December, 1850, after went the remainder of the amount deposited.

Mr. Spencer then gave a detailed history of the purchase of the Museum property by Volkert W. Roth, while the payments were all made in the name of Nelson Roth. The menor of $7,600 deposited by Miss Day in the hands of V. W. Roth, represented to the result of September. V. W. W. Roth, represented to P. Potter, editor of the Utics Gazette, that the Museum was his, and so rubblished in the sounds of $7,600 deposited by Miss Day in the hands of V. W. Roth, he would be allowed for the Juster Schole of th rated.

Mr. Spencer read affidavits from William A. Spencer and Miss Day, that summons to V. W. Roth had been issued in due form, and published as required by law. The trial is progressing.
